Theatre, exhibitions and concerts galore. Prague's Roxy Club, which has been presenting the best Czech and foreign artists for over a quarter of a century has all this and much more. Roxy is one of the best clubs in Czechia and welcomes music fans of all ages and styles.

It's a place that can win you over in a countless number of ways. Its undoubted advantage is that it is located on Dlouhá Street near Republic Square. The spirit of the whole club changes a bit with each event. Like every year, the new season will bring loads of big international stars as well as the hottest new names of the music industry.

The Roxy has had a great history. The space has existed as such since 1927 when there was a cinema on the site of today's club. The architect behind the venue emigrated to the US before the war and built an identical space in New York with the same.

The Roxy recieved several awards and is one of the top 100 best clubs in the world.

Global stars of house and techno music have grown up with the Roxy and the drum'n'bass labels like Hospital and RAM Records reached their peak there.

[→] WELCOME TO PRAGUE!

Welcome to Prague! Whether you've just landed with plane, arrived by train, bus or car, we have very important information about how to get to the city centre using all possible types of transport, without wasting more money than it's necessary.

↓ 1. PRAGUE BY PLANE

The airport is located on the northwest edge of Prague, about 20 kilometres (12 miles) from the centre of the metropolis. Your money can be changed in the currency exchange offices or kiosks situated in the airport. Important phone numbers include +420 220 111 888 (General info line - nonstop operation) and +420 220 115 005 (Lost and Found service).

↓ HOW TO GET TO THE CITY CENTER

If you've just arrived at the airport, getting to the centre will take about twenty to thirty minutes depending on traffic (if you use a taxi or shuttle service you will find necessary information below). If you choose cheaper but less convenient public transport you have to expect fifty minutes on the road.

↓...BY PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

The bus is the cheapest way to get to the city centre. The disadvantage may be that you need to buy a bus ticket paid in Czech crowns or with credit card. To get the cash, you can use ATMs in the arrival halls of the airport. Or you can buy the actual ticket directly in a kiosk or at the information counter in both arrival halls (open from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.). Furthermore, in the vending machines, located next to the bus stop, or directly from the bus driver (it will cost you a few crowns more). The ticket price is 32 CZK for a transfer ticket, with which you can freely switch among bus, tram and subway for 90 minutes. On the shorter distance and duration of 30 minutes you can use the ticket for 24 CZK (with this ticket, however, it is not allowed to switch among the types of transport). If you have more luggages, you will pay 16 Czech crowns extra.

2. GETTING TO PRAGUE BY TRAIN

International trains stop at the central train station - Prague Main Railway Station. Most of the station is renovated and offers a modern look with plenty of stalls, shops and fast-food restaurants.

For over 1000 years, Prague has served as the political, cultural and economic centre of the Czech state. Having been the seat of two Holy Roman Emperors during the gothic and renaissance periods, it also had the status of the Holy Roman Empire capital. Prague's history commenced in the year 870, although evidence shows the area had been inhabited since the Stone Age. The city flourished during the 14th century, under the reign of King Charles IV, who, among other deeds, ordered the building of the famous Charles Bridge or Saint Vitus Cathedral, the oldest gothic cathedral in central Europe, and Charles University, the oldest university in central Europe. Prague was then the third-largest city in Europe. Now home to some 1.2 million inhabitants, Prague became the capital of the newly set up Czechoslovakia in 1918, with the end of WW I and the dissolution of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. In 1992, Prague's historic center became a UNESCO world heritage site, and is currently one of the world's most popular tourist destinations.

PRAŠNÁ BRÁNA

PRAGUE 1, NÁMĚSTÍ REPUBLIKY 5

The Powder Gate (Prašná brána) is a late-Gothic structure and one of the most important monuments of medieval Prague. It was here that the Royal Route began and where one of the main roads from Kutná Hora, where silver was mined into the royal treasury, led. The Powder Gate was built in place of the older Gate tower, related to the fortification of the Old Town of Prague from the time of Václav II's reign. The older tower was known as the Mountain Gate. The Powder Gate was designed largely as a representative symbol as well as a customs collection point. Its construction began in 1475. From about 1715 it served as a firepowder warehouse, hence the name 'Powder'. During the Prussia siege of Prague in 1757, the tower was considerably destroyed. Today's appearance was not acquired by the tower until 1878-1886 for a fresh look treatment, led by architect Josef Mocker. The draft was the Old Town Bridge Tower.

PRAGUE 1, STAROMĚSTSKÉ NÁMĚSTÍ

Mother of God Church Before Thine (Kostel Matky Boží v před Týnem) is located in the Old Town of Prague, close to Old Town Square. Its construction ran from the mid-14th century to the first decades of the 16th century.

STAROMĚSTSKÝ ORLOJ

PRAGUE 1, STAROMĚSTSKÉ NÁMĚSTÍ

The Old Town Square of the Old Town Orloj (Staroměstský orloj) are medieval astronomical clocks located on the south side of the Old Town Hall tower in Prague.

The first written reference to Orloj dates back to 1410. The clock is made up of several parts - apart from an astronomical and calendar plate, it is fitted with the mechanism of twelve apostles, who appear in two small windows every entire hour (9.00 - 11p.m.). In a parade of apostles, another mannequin on the sides of the clock comes alive in mechanical motion - the reaper ringing, turning the hourglass, indicating to the standing Turk that his time is up.

He's shaking his head away. Vanity and Lakomek behave similarly. The sought-after Orloj is part of the historic centre of Prague, belonging to the UNESCO list of cultural monuments.

WE RUN ON DIESEL

iginally it was meant to be about a farewell to Mr. Bond by Daniel Craig, but his premiere in cinemas was postponed by a coronavirus. So Diesel.

Vin has a lot of important months ahead of him. As one of Hollywood's biggest hard workers, he quickly became the guy who can ask for $ 20 million a movie. But over time, it turned out that the only place where his star power really earns interest is the Fast and Furious series. Everything else, including Riddick and xXx, either failed or paid its costs. So there is a breaking point.

Bloodshot, with which Diesel intends to join the comic elite, is coming. You can start betting if it works and he finally becomes the star, he thinks he is. Because otherwise, it will only be about Fast and Furious. And that would be a shame.

The exhibition takes place in the Royal Summer Palace and lasts until July.

SHOPPING SPREE

S even out of ten European online customers buy goods in e-shops outside their home country, 57 percent even outside Europe. The reason is mainly better prices, wider offer or cheaper transport. Increasingly, they also make decisions based on how they can return goods if they do not like or fit the size.

Of course, this does not mean that customers give up on domestic production. After all, with that, all the shops could close. But the foundation is clear - you need to be assertive and be able to offer something unique to your customers that they can't buy elsewhere.

And we have prepared such tips for you on the following pages. We chose carefully and promise that in each of the presented establishments you can get something that they would not offer anywhere else. We wish you good hunting!

Film Legends Museum is a unique project, the likes of which you will not find in Europe. This is a purely Czech project, which presents Hollywood in detail. The museum introduces visitors to collectibles and pop culture.

It focuses primarily on sculptures, action figures and replicas from movies, TV series, but also games. You can find Film Legends already in two locations.

The museum in Poděbrady was opened in March 2016, followed by a second branch in Prague, which opened its doors to the first visitors in February 2018. The Prague museum takes up more than 1000 m<sup>2</sup> and there are more than 650 exhibits of various scales – from 1:6 to life size.

The range of exhibits is really varied, so everyone can find something they like.

Children can look forward to an extensive Disney collection where they will see characters from famous fairy-tales – for example Frozen, Cars, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Inside Out, and many others. There are also heroes from modern films – Avengers, Justice League, Harry Potter, Pirates of the Caribbean and countless others. Last but not least, the collection also contains rare relics from movie classics such as Predator, Alien, Terminator, Avatar, Lord of the Rings, and more. The featured games include God of War, The Witcher, Mortal Kombat and Batman: Arkham.

The layout of the collection is based on the needs of the youngest visitors. The exhibits are therefore separated into two rooms, and there is also a spacious children's corner and silent movie projection, where visitors can relax with movie classics. Each of the exhibits is very detailed and hand-painted, and exists in a very limited amount. In all three branches, over 1700 exhibits can now be seen, which makes the museum one of the largest of its kind in the world.

The museum, which is literally a paradise for movie fans of all ages, also hosts weekend programs accompanied by live film characters. Do you want to go there and see everything with your own eyes?

WELCOME... SPRING?

So we were looking forward to winter and eventually, it was snowing in Prague for exactly two days, and even what fell from the sky would be ashamed to call itself real snow. Instead, we had a few wind calamities and, of course, a pandemic to avoid bored.

But let's stop lazing around, it's time to get up and go lookout again. Well, if the weather allows us. At the moment, it may well happen that in April, 40 cm of snow will fall and no one will be surprised. But let's not fantasize and believe that spring is here. Back to trips and tourism itself. In the first nine months of 2019, nearly six million visitors came to Prague and spent 14 million nights in camps, hotels or guest houses. That's a decent number!

Nevertheless, our excursion tips are directed beyond the borders of the city, as well as the whole Czech Republic, is worth exploring. Enjoy it!

DRÁBSKÉ SVĚTNIČKY

Dneboh, Mnichovo Hradiště
www.lesycr.cz

The former Drábská světničky rock fortress stood out on the edge of a plateau of rock massif near the basalt hill Mužský near Mnichovo Hradiště. Drábské světničky is one of the most sought-after places of the Bohemian Paradise, mainly because of the far view of the surrounding countryside. Archaeologically, Drábské světničky have been known since The 1880s. A model of the possible appearance of the castle in the late Middle Ages can be seen in the Museum of the Town of Mnichovo Hradiště. At present, this former fortress is one of the most visited places in the region because it offers breathtaking views of the magnificent landscape of the Bohemian Paradise Protected Landscape Area, which was declared a UNESCO geological park in 2005. It is forbidden to camp and spend the night in the castle grounds.

CAVE OF FAIRIES

Křínické údolí, Krásná lípa
www.ceskesvycarsko.cz

Do you know how you get from the present straight into a fairy tale? Near Kyjov in the Křínická Valley, there is a rock overhang with underground spaces in which winter conjures up a carocratic ice decoration each year. You will discover the cavern villa near the village of Kyjov, approximately 6,5 km from Beauty Lípa, where there is also the nearest bus and train stop. Take the Kyjovský Valley up the red tourist mark and after approximately 2 km you will find a turn that will guide you across the River Krinická to its right bank. After the 200 m climb, you can reach the cave. To the depths of the ice kingdom, we recommend going head - to - head. The cave is freely accessible year - round.

SMOKE BOREČ HILL

www.ceskestredohori.ochranaprirody.cz

A warm steam rises from the top of Boreč Hill even in the harsh frost. The temperature difference between leaking air and the surrounding area tends to be up to 16 degrees, leaving no snow around the cracks with leaking air. The warm microclimate suits thermophilous plants that hate temperatures below zero. But the National Natural Monument has nothing to do with the stopwatch, as might seem laissez - faire. The volcanoes of the Czech Midlands have been dead for tens of millions of years, and no active volcanic activity has been demonstrated here. The mystery of what actually occurs inside the hill, explained Prague University Professor Jan Krejčí in 1881 - Boreč is actually a hollow mountain, laced with a complex fissure labyrinth.

If you go to the Bakery during the winter season, you can admire the icy decoration consisting not only of classic icicles, but mainly of icy, "dwarves" reaching sometimes almost a metre in height.

A PIECE OF BEER'S HISTORY

A piece of Beer's history had begun to brew in the rantings of the ancient. One of our ancestors apparently found a container of cereal he had farmed into and found that the yeast of the mocha had a pleasant taste.

But it was about Slované who introduce his hops after 4,000 years of brewing beer that fundamentally changed the taste of the drink. Nesmirna's popularity of beer on Czech territory has caused the first bishop of St. Vojtěch had already forgotten brewing beer in 993 under the severe penalty of excommunication from the church. Beer continued to brew, however, and today Czechs are the best at drinking beer in the world. For one citizen of our small republic, it's about 160 liters a year. We will subtract - if women and children, then for every adult male it is about a litre a day. In the recent past, Czechs were outnumbered by Belgians and Germans in beer drinking, but after Slovakia's secession we went inexorably to the top of the world rankings. So every visitor has a lot to catch up on!

PIKNIK PARK

- A FRESH BREEZE IN MALÁ STRANA

There are many attractions and so-called tourist traps near famous Charles Bridge. And there's also a lot of commotion. Where can one enjoy the beauty of the old city and not have to push and shove through the crowds of curious visitors? Without a doubt in Piknik Park.

The recently opened Piknik Park restaurant is located in the heart of Malá Strana, just a few steps from Charles Bridge and Lennon's Wall, right on the banks of Čertovka. Čertovka in Prague is a place that separates Kampa from the rest of Malá Strana. It is an artificially created water channel that was built back in the twelfth century and still astonishes with its beautiful conception. Piknik Park is situated right at Čertovka, so the view is truly unique.

The interior of the enterprise is above reproach. It is a new, completely renovated place, designed with feeling and is quite intimate. The restaurant and garden holds a few dozen people, which I personally see as a great positive. Large businesses give off a much less personal impression, and one often feels like they are in a factory cafeteria.

The restaurant menu is focused on Italian cuisine. This is a somewhat unusual choice for the center of Prague. But it makes sense. The pursuit of a typical Czech meal has become the nonsensical mantra of many Prague businesses, and the gastronomy has stagnated in recent years as a result. Not to mention that although Czech cuisine is excellent without debate and has many advantages, at the same time it is very heavy and can't be eaten all the time (in the sense that one likes to have it out of curiosity but then prefers something lighter). The pure Italian cuisine is therefore a breath of fresh air in Prague, and in this case also an authentic one. Piknik Park has two Italian cooks under its thumb, all the dishes are made of high quality and fresh ingredients and always according to the best traditions of Italian cuisine.

Due to the focus on Italian cuisine, it is not surprising that the beverage menu isn't dominated by beer (but of course, it's on tap there). On the contrary, wine plays a primary role, which is delivered by the Vínó Hruška winery. A stylish wine shop is part of the restaurant and people can hear the offer there. There is really a large selection, the wines are delicious, and if you would like to have a glass with your meal (or even a few), it would be a big mistake to go over the offer there and not taste anything. Even though Czech wines clearly dominate the offer, there are, of course, also foreign wines.

In spite of its location in the heart of Malá Strana, Piknik Park does not have any excessive prices (which also applies to the wines where a whole bottle is priced in the hundreds of crowns). What, on the contrary, Piknik Park has - and it is a real rarity in these parts - is a year-round garden. Something like that is not common in Prague, and it's a tremendous shame. Of course, it is worth visiting the city even in colder weather, and there is no reason to hide from it. In order for the garden to be a year-round garden, it has thermal heaters.

Once again, Picnic Park is out of the ordinary, it is also thanks to the live music on the terrace (playing every day!). It is usually created by two musicians (such as a violinist and a guitar player) which gives the atmosphere of the place a truly unique touch. It's almost like from a movie - a romantic retreat in a beautiful city, excellent food, a candle on the table, and pleasant, unobtrusive and yet intoxicating background music. There is something magical about it.

It's no problem to go without a reservation to Piknik Park, but if you're preparing to go there in the evening, a reservation won't hurt. Due to its location and excellent gastronomy, it's a place that's very popular not only with tourists but also with Prague residents, despite its short existence.

Of course, it is also possible to rent the whole space for a private event. However, in that case it is good to think ahead and make a reservation in time. In the case of a reception, you do not have to stick to Italian cuisine - the chefs will be happy to hear any of your wishes.

Every city is in a way „hostage“ to supply and demand. It demonstrates the trend and, to a great extent, it may stifle originality. Piknik Park goes its own way. It offers a place that is not afraid to be elegant, affordable at the same time, with refreshing cuisine and a location that is popular for its scenic walks. You will certainly not lose out by visiting.

One of the most beautiful meeting gardens right in the city center. Would you like Saturday's brunch, business break or more festive event? Who would say that this quiet oasis is right on the busy Wenceslas Square - you will not notice it when sitting. Like the interior of the café, the garden is decorated with stylish furniture. The food is also delicious, fresh and seasonal, both vegans and carnivores will be satisfied. Their cakes just can't be resisted. Tuned to perfection. The owners of this picturesque café also run a shop with furniture and interior accessories at the same address. It is actually a showroom and bistro with a café in one.

SINFUL NIGHT LIFE OF PRAGUE CITY

Why will be deluding ourselves. Every good capital, whose streets pulsate with life, must have beside restaurants, bars, cafes and shopping centers also (as the novelists say) the houses of love. And even Prague is no exception. But before we go into its streets, let's make a small historic revision.

It is no longer the rule that these places are for desperate individuals. Time progressed. When was the phenomenon of night clubs or prostitution itself actually born? Well, not for anything they say that it's the oldest profession of the world. It is probable that prostitution has evolved from religious belief and rituals which were held to celebrate the goddess of fertility in the Middle-Age. In the 19th century it was strongly developed and reached all segments of society from politics to high art (for example Vincent Van Gogh lived for years with a Flemish prostitute).

We know that it's not easy to find the right company in which you can feel natural and comfortable. Indeed, there are lots of them and if you had to visit them all, it would cost you the whole wealth.

For this reason, we are showing few short "best of" tips in the following pages. We guarantee that you definitely won't be bored. The ride full of excitement and beautiful women is awaiting!

6. THINGS YOU MUST KNOW ABOUT PRAGUERS IN ADVANCE!

1) PRAGUERS ARE ALWAYS IN A BAD MOOD

When there is someone with a grumpy expression that points out that he would like to kill you, don't take it personally. Prague residents are always in a hurry and still seem to be in a bad mood. In short, it works like that here. But otherwise they are fine!

2) THEY DON'T WAIT FOR THE GREEN LIGHT

You can also recognize true Praguers by ignoring the traffic lights. In short, he is looking for every possible space that will be offered to him on the road, and when he sees the opportunity, he immediately crosses the street. Red, green, it doesn't matter.

3) THEY DRINK BEER, A LOT OF BEER

The Czech Republic is well known for its excellent beer, and the Czechs have certainly never concealed themselves by being able to „send a few pieces“ to themselves. But if you with such a Prager for a beer, don't be fooled. “Going out for one beer” is really just a phrase. Every Czech drinks an average of 142 liters of beer per year, while during an average session, the trained Prager handles some 8 pieces and is not even out of his breath.

4) THEY MUST ALWAYS PLAN SOMETHING

You will probably feel like lazy, because the Praguers have - it seems - planned perhaps every minute of the day. And this also applies to weekends. It can only be Monday morning and the right Prager already knows what he will do on the weekend.

5) THEY ARE OBSESSED WITH CARS

Although Prague has one of the best transport links in Europe, if we talk about public transport (train, metro, tram, bus), Prague citizens are still obsessed with driving everywhere. And even though they have to wait in the traffic jams for an hour.

6) THEY DON'T SEEM, BUT THEY HELP

Praguers are vigilant because someone keeps putting them something on the street or wants money from them. And this is really annoying them. Therefore, when you stop them, they immediately go into defense mode and can look very dull. Don't let this scare you. As soon as he realizes that you just want some advice, they change completely and almost leads you to the place. They don't seem that, but they're sweeties!
